Creativity and imagination breed the type of students who possess unlimited and inexhaustible talents. These students have the ability to take you into a world in which they become the master. Don't miss this opportunity to join them on a journey to the end of their story, told passionately through fantastical characters, animated creatures, visual effects, mythical environments, music and lyrics, and cinematic art. Their power lies not in which form of media arts they use, but rather in the students' creativity, originality, ambition, passion and commitment to art and design.
